Department of Afrikaans and Dutch

Afrikaans and Dutch 348 Advanced Studies in Afrikaans Language and Literature

With Afrikaans and Dutch 348, students continue their study of Afrikaans and Dutch language and literature.

Students take four of the following six components:

- Afrikaans creative writing (subject to a selection process)
- Afrikaans poetry after 1970
- Afrikaans semantics
- Literary theory
- Methodology of Afrikaans language acquisition
- Postmodern Dutch literature

Remarks

1. Afrikaans and Dutch 278 is a requirement for this module.
2. Afrikaans and Dutch 318 is not a requirement for this module.
3. Students who want to pursue an Honours in Afrikaans and Dutch need to complete both Afrikaans and Dutch 318 and Afrikaans and Dutch 348.
4. Not all components of Afrikaans and Dutch 278 are necessarily offered in every academic year.

Assessment method

This module does not have any exams. Assessment details are provided for each component, but all work in the module is compulsory. A final mark consists of all tests, essays and assignments completed during the course of the semester.

To pass the module, students have to:

- complete all work (tests, essays, assignments) in all the components, and
- achieve an average mark of at least 50%.
