Call for applications:

Honours (B Ed HONS) and Master's (M Ed) students are invited to apply for an international mobility opportunity

The Faculty of Education is a partner in the Teacher Education Network (TEN). Institutions like KU Leuven, Utrecht University, University of Cologne, University of Helsinki and Saxion University of Applied Sciences are additional partners within this network.

This network offers a structured course, Teacher Education in an International Perspective which includes international mobility. This course, an intensive programme, will be offered through blended learning where students will explore "Education in a Digital World" as a theme.

Programme structure:

Teacher Education in an International Perspective Education in a Digital World
Part 1	Part 2	Part 3
Virtual learning before the physical exchange	Exchange week in Utrecht 17 th – 21 st March 2025	Virtual learning after the exchange week

This opportunity is reserved for Hons and Masters students. Successful nominees/applicants will be partially supported through SU International and the TEN.

Interested students are requested to submit applications to zbarends@sun.ac.za by 25 November 2025.

Applications must include:

1. An essay/letter expressing interest to pursue participation in the programme.
The letter/essay should include the following:
 - i. Title and description of research project focus.
 - ii. Project plan and timeline of research project.
 - iii. Statement illustrating how the participation in this programme will enable your development as post-graduate student and your progress with research project.
2. A letter of support from research project supervisor
3. CV

Terms and conditions

1. Only Hons and Masters students of the Faculty of Education are eligible to apply.
2. Students should be registered for 2024 and 2025.

3. The award will be made on a competitive basis. Applications will be reviewed by an internal panel based on quality and potential impact of participation in the programme.
4. The exchange opportunities cannot be used for the attendance of a conference/workshop/symposium or seminar only.
5. The applicant must ensure that the application is complete, with all the required documents included/attached. Incomplete applications will not be considered.
6. No travel arrangements should be made before confirmation from the faculty that participation can proceed. SU International/the faculty will not reimburse any costs incurred should the visit not proceed, and travel arrangements were already made.
7. At the time of the call, information was correct but may be subject to change.
8. Deadlines should be strictly adhered to. Late applications will not be considered.

Reporting

Successful applicants must submit a report on completion of the programme (within one month after completion).
